

The Road to Excellence

Results Coaching Seminars

“No matter how long you’ve been teaching and how many pedagogical and content-based strategies you have, if you’re in a leadership role on your campus or with your district, this seminar will deepen your understanding and expand your skills.”

—Anthony Perez, English Department Coordinator, Northside ISD

Level I: Instructional Coaching: Essential for School Success

This seminar is designed to support the work of instructional coaches, instructional specialists and content facilitators as they deepen knowledge and skills about the role and work of a Coach.

Learning will focus on the most essential tools and skills of coaching:

- Language that promotes positive thinking and problem solving
- Feedback that accelerates growth
- Conversation tools and frameworks that increase effectiveness and efficiency

The principles of coaching, the most current research from neuroscience about why the brain needs coaching, and the most current research on trust will support the work of all types of professional learning communities. The learner will distinguish among the many roles that influence and impact achievement as they increase metacognition of self and others.

This seminar will strengthen and deepen the knowledge, skills and beliefs of any person responsible for supporting others, building relationships and ultimately increasing performance.
