

Chapter 4 Team Activity: A Continuum of Tiered Supports

The team activity allows you to reflect on what you have read in chapter 4 and apply your team's learning. It is an opportunity to assess your organization's current state and decide the best next steps for building the continuum of tiered supports component of your MTSS framework. Each member should answer the questions in the team activity individually and then share responses with the team.

- What portion of the chapter resonated with you most?
- What is your organization's current reality when it comes to a continuum of tiered supports?
- What do you think needs to change in your organization?
- What effective practices do you think need to continue in your organization?
- What steps do you suggest your organization take to improve the continuum of tiered supports?
