

Plan Your Policies, Procedures, and Routines

Classroom routines are the foundation for ensuring there is plenty of time for learning. Table 3.1 (page 65) includes policies, procedures, and routines you will likely need to introduce into your classroom. Decide which are the most important to introduce immediately and plan for two of them. Be sure to plan precise directions and narrations for each policy and procedure.
