

Single-Case Design Chart

The x-axis represents different points in time when you collect data. The y-axis represents a behavior that indicates values awareness, commitment to values, or willingness to struggle.*