

Reflecting on Teaching Authentically

How real and authentic are you with your students?

What gets in the way of being real and authentic with your students?

What steps might you take to increase being real and authentic with your students?