

Unit Planning Calendar

This calendar is designed to help teachers map out the time frame for the assessment. Teams may also indicate when they will meet to determine the assessments (phase three, page 35), analyze student work (phase five, part 3, page 117), and execute the instruction (phase five, part 4, page 137). Finally, the team will continually refine and add to this calendar template as it moves to phase two (page 21), where team members can add learning targets to the days within the unit, and phase three, where team members will identify formative assessments and end-of-unit assessments.
