

Think Deeper About an Idea or Concept

1. Describe the idea or topic you want to explore.

2. Describe your plan for exploring this idea.

3. Dig deeper into this exploration by answering the following questions.

What is a crucial point of view (that is not your own) for understanding the main idea? Describe the idea from that perspective.

What are five core assumptions you have about this topic? What is a question you could pose or problem about this assumption for which the answers could change your perspective?

What is the biggest problem from this list and how might solving it change your perspective?

What might critics be saying about this same topic and how might they be right?

How might people have viewed this idea twenty years ago, and what might people think about it twenty years into the future?
