

Figure 5.11: Editorial Redo

The purpose of these editorials was to convince the reader to agree with you. An editorial can be well written but not convincing. If your editorial was not convincing, it did not fulfill its primary purpose. Review your work with a fresh perspective and determine how you can improve it.

1. Read the feedback on your editorial. Choose a section to improve based on the feedback.
2. Copy the original text here.

3. Write the revised text here.
