

Preteaching and Spiraling

Use this chart to make a list of the mathematics concepts you will be teaching during the year. Each time you begin a new unit, look at the upcoming unit to identify skills and concepts you will preteach during that unit. After the unit is over, look back and see which concepts you need to spiral with your students for reinforcement.

	Units
Skills and Concepts			