

Figure 3.15: Sentence Examples (Secondary)

Excerpts From Of Mice and Men by John Steinbeck (1965)
the water is warm too	for	it has slipped twinkling over the yellow sands in the sunlight before reaching the narrow pool
both men glanced up	for	the rectangle of sunshine in the doorway was cut off
he paused and looked toward the open door	for	the horses were moving restlessly and the halter chains clinked
rabbits come out of the brush to sit on the sand in the evening	and	the damp flats are covered with the night tracks of 'coons, and with the spread pads of dogs from the ranches
they had walked in single file down the path	and	even in the open one stayed behind the other
Lennie looked startled	and	then in embarrassment he hid his face against his knees
far off toward the highway a man shouted something	and	another man shouted back
"A guy on a ranch don't never listen	nor	he don't ast no questions."
"We run. They was lookin' for us	but	they didn't catch us."
George said coldly, "You gonna give me that mouse	or	do I have to sock you?"
Lennie dabbled his big paw in the water and wiggled his fingers	so	the water arose in little splashes
George said, "Say it over to yourself, Lennie	so	you won't forget it."
in front of the low horizontal limb of a giant sycamore there is an ash pile made by many fires	;	the limb is worn smooth by men who have sat on it
Lennie's hands remained at his sides	;	he was too frightened to defend himself
