

Figure 6.15: Personal Narrative Revision Sheet 2, Elementary Level

Personal Narrative Revision Sheet 2
	Circle
Ideas, Content, and Organization
This is a personal narrative about something true that happened to the writer.	Yes	No
There is a title .	Yes	No
The writing begins with a description of a setting . 	Yes	No
The writing begins with a description of a character . 	Yes	No
The writing begins with a telling sentence about what happened.	Yes	No
In the middle , the writer explains what happens in a logical order . 	Yes	No
The ending tells why the event is important or how the writer feels about what happened.	Yes	No
Voice
The writer uses first-person point of view using the pronoun / because I write what happened to me.	Yes	No
Sentence Fluency
All sentences are complete .	Yes	No
There are no run-on sentences .	Yes	No
Sentences begin with different words .	Yes	No
Order words connect sentences.	Yes	No
Word Choice
Sensory details help readers picture the writing.	Yes	No
The writer uses interesting adjectives and verbs .	Yes	No
Conventions
Words are spelled correctly.	Yes	No
There are correct end marks at the end of each sentence.	Yes	No
Letters at the beginning of sentences, names of people, and the word / are capitalized .	Yes	No
When the paper is read aloud, it makes sense .	Yes	No
The handwriting is easy to read , and the paper is neat .	Yes	No
The writer leaves space between words and sentences.	Yes	No