

Survey of Literacy and Learning

Assess your knowledge of the Power Tools listed in the left column. Check the box that indicates your level of knowledge. Then use the results to identify several strategies that you wish to learn about and write a learning goal statement(s).

Power Tool	Clueless	Heard of It	Know It	Could Teach It
Student Learning Survey
3-2-1 Biography Poem
People Search
Literacy History Timeline
Reading and Writing Interest Inventory
Class Routine Chart
The Effort T-Chart
Let Your Fingers Do the Walking
Community Learning Walls
Goal Setting
Specific Feedback
Checklist for Student Self-Assessment
Cooperative and Partnered Learning
The Magnificent Seven Comprehension Strategies
Explicit Comprehension Instruction
Comprehension Bookmarks

Power Tool	Clueless	Heard of It	Know It	Could Teach It
Comprehension Reflection Prompts
Think-Aloud for Comprehension
Reading With Purpose
Reciprocal Teaching
Scavenger Hunt
Passage Prediction
Anticipation Guide
Reading Aloud Picture Books
Interactive Notebooks
Mind Mapping
Marking the Text
Marginalia
Golden Lines
Guided Read-Aloud
Somebody Wanted But So
Read and Say Something
Even Dozen
Save the Last Word for Me
Foldables
Readers' Theater
Direct Vocabulary Instruction
Read-Alouds

REPRODUCIBLE

Power Tool	Clueless	Heard of It	Know It	Could Teach It
Sustained Silent Reading
Anticipating Words
Teaching Word Parts
The Frayer Model
Concept Maps
Concept Sorts
List, Group, Label
Linear Array
Mystery Word of the Day
ABC Graffiti
Vocabulary Rubric
Vocabulary Graphic Organizer
Semantic Feature Analysis
Teacher's Vocabulary Checklist
Writing High Five
Response Cards
Interactive Note-Taking
Three-Column Journal
Quickwrites in Journals
Cognitive Journal Writing
RAFT
Cubing
Give One, Get One
Exit Tickets
Think, Write, Tear, Share
Found Poems

