

Chapter 10: Ride the Wave, Strategy 3

In the spirit of respecting and understanding different perspectives, fill in the following chart, which concerns controversial or timely topics in education. Use a brief sentence to explain your perspective on each of the following educational issues. Then attempt to articulate why those who disagree with you believe what they do. Students can, of course, engage in the same activity, with the teacher replacing issues of education with any controversial or debatable topics.
