

Chapter 6: Ride the Wave, Strategy 3

Think about ideas you have “stolen” from your peers and things you do in your work that you think your colleagues should “steal” from you. Record the best ones, along with names of the educators who came up with the ideas, ensuring that team members receive the credit they deserve. Ask your teammates to create their own lists, and then share your responses at your next team meeting. If you hear some ideas you like, record them here, and try them in your own classroom.
