

Figure 1.3: Collaboration Learning Goals for Secondary Students

You will probably meet some of these goals through the natural give-and-take of collaboration. But some goals will require conscious thought and effort. In the Comments column, leave a note to yourself about each goal. How are you doing? What have you tried? What would you do differently next time? Give yourself credit for what you're doing well and look for things you'd like to do better.

Collaboration learning goals	Comments
Act responsibly with the interests of the larger community in mind.
Deal positively with praise, setbacks, and criticism.
Demonstrate the ability to work effectively with diverse teams.
Be open and responsive to new and diverse perspectives; incorporate group input and feedback.
Exercise flexibility and willingness to be helpful in making necessary compromises to accomplish a common goal.
Set and meet high standards and goals for delivering quality work on time.
Assume shared responsibility for collaborative work.
Adapt to varied roles and responsibilities.

Source: Partnership for 21st Century Learning. (n.d.). Framework for 21st century learning definitions. Accessed at http://static.battelleforkids.org/documents/p21/P21_Framework_DefinitionsBFK.pdf on February 19, 2020.